

Abstract

An electrically operated programmable resistance memory element having a conductive layer as an electrical contact. The 5 conductive layer has a raised portion extending from an edge of the layer to an end adjacent the memory material.

Patented Feb 10 1964